

KIM'S BIO

January, 2017 marked 43 years as a Singer, Songwriter and Storyteller. Music is my life.

I love to sing, write, play and tell stories about a life I had perfectly planned. Those plans went more curly than straight, teaching me that too many plans are laughable while those curves inform my Muse.

My 9th studio album feels like my first. "Into The Blue", produced by Ken Whiteley is the sum of 43 years. It comes straight from the heart and the songs reflect a deep desire to move forward in my musical life authentically, with an eye on looking back at where it all began. "Into The Blue" is dropping on April 8, 2017. I am so grateful to have been mentored by Ken Whiteley, my music could not have been placed in better hands. The songs are reflective and meant to create hope and optimism through strength, perseverance, trust and spirit. We cannot get enough of that in the world.

I hope you enjoy the music. I look forward to singing for you very soon.

May all your Blues be the musical kind.
